TRANSIT COMMISSION'S PLAN TO END TRAFFIC CONGESTION PROVIDES SEVEN NEW ROUTES

Will Add 32½ Miles of Route and 84 1-5 Miles of Track by Subway, Tunnel and Moving Sidewalks and Will Cost $218,000,000.

Seven new rapid transit routes, planned to relieve the overcrowded traffic now carried on existing subway and elevated lines in Greater New York, are officially announced today for the first time by the Transit Commission. The proposed new lines will add thirty-two and one-half miles of route and eighty-four and one-fifth miles of track to existing lines. The estimated cost of the new construction is round numbers $174,000,000. Added to this for engineering and administrative costs during the construction is about $44,000,000, making the total cost of the lines when completed about $218,000,000.

The proposed new lines are:

1. Corona extension from Corona to Flushing.
2. 42d Street cross-town moving platform from river to river.
3. Staten Island tunnel from Fourth Avenue subway to Rosebank.
4. B. R. T. extension of Broadway-Seventh Avenue line from Columbus Circle via Central Park West to 110th Street to the Polo Grounds via 7th Avenue.
5. Brooklyn cross-town subway from Queensboro Plaza to Brighton Beach line at Franklin Avenue and Fulton Street.
6. Subway under East River from Fulton Street "L" to City Hall, Manhattan.
7. West side subway from lower Manhattan to Washington Heights, via Hudson Street, 8th Avenue, Amsterdam Avenue and Fort Washington Avenue to 181st Street.

Not a new line of rapid transit has been provided in this city since 1913 and some of the work contracted for under the dual contracts of that year has not yet been finished, although the rapid transit lines last year carried twice as many passengers as were carried on the original rapid transit lines.

To relieve this situation, public hearings on the proposed new routes will be held by the Transit Commission before any disposition is made of the present problem of unifying the whole traction system of the city.

Some of the details of the proposed new routes are:

FLUSHING-CORONA ROUTE.

The line to Flushing will run as a three track continuation of the elevated structure from Corona to Flushing.

WARRANTS ASKED FOR RECEIVERS FOR BOOSTING CAR FARE

Action Follows Their Defiance of Prosecutor's Order to Cancel the Increase.

MORE PROTESTS MADE.

Queens President Wants O'Brien to Bring Action for Removal of Receivers.

Warrants for the arrest of the two receivers of the Steinway Lines in Queens will be asked for this afternoon by District Attorney Wallace as a result of the receivers' refusal to obey an order issued by him to restore the 5-cent fare.

Slaughter W. Huff, President of the Third Avenue Railroad Company, and Robert C. Lee, receivers, through their attorney, A. T. Davison, earlier today told Mr. Wallace they would not rescind their 10-cent fare, "car ahead" order which went into effect at 2 A. M. yesterday. Mr. Wallace had warned them that if the old through cars from Manhattan to College Point, for a 5-cent fare, were not run by noon he would summon the receivers into court.

After conferring with the receivers and their attorney, which resulted in their determination not to obey the District Attorney, Mr. Wallace issued the following statement:

"I will, this afternoon, file a complaint in the First District Magistrate's Court made by Edward T. Hutchinson, Supervising Transit Inspector of the Transit Commission, charging the receivers of the Steinway lines with a violation of Section No. 29 of the Public Service Commission Laws in the establishment of certain rates for transit, and I will take immediate action on this complaint."

Shortly before this order was issued Borough President Connolly asked Corporation Counsel O'Brien to commence an action before Supreme Court Justice Callaghan for the removal of the receivers. Mr. Connolly demanded this on the charge that the receivers had committed an illegal act. He also declared that the New York and Queens owned the city large amounts of money for paying the city within the railroad area on the company's lines, thus making the city a party to all actions in court.

District Attorney Wallace acted on the request of the Transit Commission to enforce the penalizing clauses of the new Public Service Commission act for failure to obey Commission orders. The receivers cut the Queens line in two at Woodside, reduced service, compelled passengers to change cars and also inaugurated a second fare all over the disapproval of the Commission. One of the Commissioners declared that the State's authority would be enforced even were it necessary to call out the militia.

Passengers to-day continued to pay the second fare with increased protest, but they refused to do anything which might jeopardize the city and the Commission in their court fights. Little hope was expressed for relief from this source, however.

DAVISON ESTATE TO WIDOW IN TRUST; $4,500,000 GOES TO ELDEST SON AT HER DEATH

Other Children Share Equally in Remainder of Trust—Total Value of Estate Not Given.

No Provision for Sisters, Previously Taken Care Of, or for Household Servants—Several Small Bequests.

The will of Henry P. Davison was filed for probate with the Surrogate of Nassau County at Mineola today. The value of the estate is not given, but the will provides for one bequest of $4,500,000 to Mr. Davison's eldest son, F. Trubee Davison.

The will in full was as follows:

The will disposes of an estate of about $5,000,000. It was said in the office of White and Case, No. 14 Wall Street, Manhattan. George Case, of that firm, was in charge of the filing of the will. In a statement, Mr. Case said:

"Mr. Davison has made provision otherwise for his sister, Mary Davison Le Braz, and for his wife's sister, Alice Trubee Salmon; hence there is no bequest to either of them under the will."

The bulk of the estate is placed in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Davison. Upon her death Mr. Davison's eldest son, Frederick Trubee Davison, is bequeathed $4,500,000. The balance of the trust fund is to be distributed in equal shares among Mr. Davison's other children, Harry P. Davison Jr., Alice Davison Gates and Frances Pomerooy Davison.

"I, Henry P. Davison, of Locust Valley, Nassau County, New York, do hereby make, publish and declare this instrument as and for my last will and testament, hereby revoking all other and former wills and codicils by me at any time heretofore made."

"First: I direct that all my debts, funeral and testamentary charges shall be paid as soon after my decease as may conveniently be done."

"I also direct that all succession or inheritance taxes which may be levied or assessed against my estate and the legacies, life estate and devises hereinafter set forth shall be paid out of my residuary estate."

"Second: I give and bequeath to my wife, Kate Trubee Davison, all of my personal effects and jewelry, wherever located, and also the household furniture and pictures, works of art, silver, ornaments, bric a brac and supplies, which are located on the premises known as No. 690 Park Avenue, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, for her own use, absolutely and forever."

"I also give and bequeath to my

CHASE BANK GUARD CONFESSES THEFT OF $500,000 BONDS

Of This Sum $440,000 Has Been Recovered—Two Others Arrested.

The theft of $500,000 in Liberty bonds from the Chase National Bank April 17, of which the bank made a great mystery for a time, has been altogether explained by the complete confession made to Detective Lieutenants C. Brown and August Mayer today by Arthur Chase, watchman in the registered mail room of the bank, who was arrested while on duty last evening.

The arrest of Chase followed the receipt of telegrams by Inspector John Coughlin from Savannah, Ga., that John W. Vardeman, a former employee of the bank, had been arrested there with his wife, Fern Hollis, a minor opera singer, and that $440,000 of the stolen bonds were in a safe deposit box in St. Augustine, Fla.

Chase, the watchman, interested the detectives at Headquarters because of his variation from the ordinary type of criminal with whom they have to deal. He is a cowpuncher from Arizona, has been a fur trapper in Alaska, served in the army in the Philippines and fought in the 151st Field Artillery in the A. E. F. with distinction. He calmly refused to make any confession at first, because he said it would "involve a woman, and that was no part of a real man's game."

The detectives understood he meant Mrs. Vardeman, whose photographs in several poses were found in his room. On the back of one was written "una diablo" (Spanish for "one devil") and on the other, "A minute with the woman you love is worth an eternity."

Chase lived with the

Calls It Cruel When Husband Banned Movies

But He Came Home Drunk Every Saturday, Wife Says in Suit.

Failure to take his wife to the "movies" for five years was alleged as cruel and inhuman treatment in the complaint against Chester E. Mead, an employee of the New York Telephone Company, living at No. 18 Locust Hill Avenue, Yonkers, by Mrs. Hattie V. Mead, in her suit for separation at White Plains.

Mead said he is in delicate health and nearly fifty years old, and in answer to his wife's charge that he paid her only $10 a week for household expenses, he said that when he was married to her in 1907 he was making only $9 a week, but now, making $24 a week, he gives her $19 a week.

AGED WOMEN DIES, 3 GRANDCHILDREN RESCUED IN FIRE

Engines Too Late to Save Mrs. Supple, Recover Body With Water Curtain.

GIRL RESCUES HERSELF.

Children, Trapped in Smoke-Filled Room, Carried Down Ladders.

Mrs. Sarah Supple, sixty-five, was burned to death at 5:30 A. M. today in a fire that swept through the home of her son-in-law, Harry Perry, Democratic leader of the 23rd Assembly District and Clerk in the 2d District Court, at No. 333 Broome Street, near the Bowery.

Her daughter, Mrs. Perry, was severely burned in a heroic attempt to save her, and the Perry family pet, Major, a bulldog, lost his life in alarming the household. Firemen made spectacular rescues of three of the Perry children and of Dennis Sullivan, fifty-five, a relative of the late "Big Tim" and a member of the Perry household.

The horror of her experience made Mrs. Perry temporarily deranged, and when she saw the body of her mother policemen had to hold her down in the street until an ambulance came.

The Perry home is three stories and basement. He and his wife and Sullivan have rooms on the third floor. Mrs. Supple and her six grandchildren slept on the second floor. It was Mrs. Supple's custom every morning, despite the objection of her daughter and son-in-law, to go to the kitchen in the basement and get breakfast started. Major, the dog, always accompanied her.

For several days painters had been redecorating the house, and there was much inflammable material about. It is believed Mrs. Supple dropped a lighted match and set fire to some of it. Major heard her scream and saw the fire, and ran barking up the stairs. After he had made one or two trips through the halls he aroused Mr. and Mrs. Perry, then ran back into the basement, where his charred body was found later near that of Mrs. Supple.

When Mr. Perry opened his door to learn the cause of the dog's excitement he found the halls filled with smoke. He ran down to the second floor and seized Jack, seventeen, Charles, thirteen, and Isabel, seven. He thought his wife and Sullivan would bring down the other three.

But when he reached the lower hallway his wife rushed past him toward the basement. In the mean time Policemen Michael Fasciglione and Joseph McTiernan of the Clinton Street Station had heard the dog and the screams and saw the smoke. They knew Mrs. Supple was usually in the basement at that hour, and tried to get in but the flames drove them back.

Just as they forced in the front door upstairs, Mr. Perry came down with the children and Mrs. Perry.

WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS ARE DENIED; REFUSE TO RELEASE LABOR LEADERS

WORKERS FROM U.S. TO RUN RUSSIA'S CLOTHING INDUSTRY

$1,000,000 Co-Operative Company Planned With Permission of Lenin.

CHICAGO, May 11.—Operation of all Soviet and textile factories in Russia will be turned over to an American workers' society, to be known as the American-Russian Trade Industrial Workers' Association, with a capitalization of not less than a million dollars.

This was announced today at the biennial convention of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America. It was announced at the session today that the concession for the purpose had been granted by Lenin.

When the announcement of the concession was made by President Sidney Hillman the convention voted, amid great enthusiasm, to authorize its officers to form the company, made an appropriation of $10,000 to defray initial expenses and voted the purchase of $50,000 worth of stock for the union. Ten dollar shares will be sold to workers and others interested in restoring Russian economic life, it was said.

The enterprise is to be co-operative, with all earnings over 10 per cent applying to the extension of the project. The necessary factories, equipment and raw materials will be furnished by the Soviet Government, and the capital and technical skill is to be supplied by the American company.

Control of the management will be vested in a central board on which both parties will be equally represented.

BOY SAVES WOMAN ON SUBWAY TRACK AS TRAIN COMES

Student Rush Hour Hero When Mrs. Peto, 67, Falls Off Platform.

Mrs. Mary Peto, sixty-seven, leaned toward the northbound express track of the Union Square subway station last night to see if a train was in sight. She lost her balance and fell just as the roar of the train was heard.

Hundreds of people in the rush hour crowd stood helpless. Cries of fright came from women. Louis Strakes, seventeen, of No. 361 West 20th Street, a student in Commercial High School, Brooklyn, jumped to the track.

Waiting passengers helped him lift her to the platform and as Louis himself gained it, the train stopped just a few feet from him.

Jurist Agrees With Prosecutor That Murders and Bombings May Be Renewed if Prisoners Are Freed.

400 Union Heads, Including Women, Rounded Up After Two Policemen Are Killed—Pistols Found in Safe.

CHICAGO, May 11.—Declaring that he agreed with the contention made by the police that "Chicago is in a state of warfare," Judge Kinkham Scanlon today refused to issue writs of habeas corpus releasing Cornelius Shea and John Lafferty, labor leaders, arrested in connection with the killing of two policemen yesterday morning during a series of labor bombings. He told the police these two men could be held at least until Saturday.

The cases of Shea and Lafferty were the first to come up, and Judge Scanlon took only a few minutes to rule on them. About a dozen other applications for writs of habeas corpus were up before other judges.

Shea, an ex-convict who once served a term in Sing Sing, is head of one element of the Teamsters' Union. Lafferty is a lieutenant of "Big Tim" Murphy, known as Chicago's labor czar, who also was arrested.

George Gorman, Assistant State Attorney, in opposing writs of habeas corpus for the men, stated that "Chicago is in a state of warfare and to release these men will only mean more murders, more bombings and more violence."

Judge Scanlon interrupted by telling Mr. Gorman that he agreed "about the warfare" and denied the writs.

At the same time Judge Joseph David in effect refused to release "Big Tim" Murphy and Fred Mader, the latter an ex-convict and head of the Building Trades Union. Judge David refused to hear the pleas, postponing the case until to-morrow at the request of the police.

The detective bureau and city jails were crowded today with 400 labor leaders and others held in connection with the murders. Two men have been pointed out as resembling men in the automobile from which shots which killed Terrance Lyons, acting lieutenant, were fired. Rewards totalling $20,000 have been offered for the arrest of the slayers.

All law enforcement organizations in the city are united in what police term "a fight to the finish with organized labor." More than 100 labor leaders, including "Big" Tim Murphy, Cornelius Shea and Fred Mader, President of the Building Trades Council, are among those under arrest. Raids on labor headquarters brought in labor bosses by the score yesterday.

The two partly identified as the slayers are, police say, leaders Braverman, twenty-eight, and Max Glass, thirty-three.

Braverman is said to have fired the shots from an automobile when Lieut. Lyons was killed and he was pointed out by James A. McClellan and Frederick Blank, patrolmen, who were in the car with Lyons when he was shot to death and when Albert Moeller, patrolman, was seriously injured. The identification is not positive as Braverman's family has advanced an alibi for him.

Glass, who is a member of the Glaziers' Union, was arrested in a raid on union headquarters and was pointed out by a man who said he was an eye-witness as the slayer of Thomas

Jimmie, of Masonic Show, Calls on Mayor With His Pal

Orang-Outang Is Constant Companion of Little Miss June Shaw.

Jimmie, the sixteen-month-old orang-outang being featured at the Masonic Show in Madison Square Garden, visited City Hall today and made an official call on Mayor Hylan. Jimmie saluted the Mayor and shook hands, after which he mumbled something interpreted to mean that he was introducing four-year-old June Shaw, his constant companion. Jimmie's southpaw is usually about June's neck. June is the child of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Shaw, owners of the simian.

The excitement of meeting a Mayor must have been too much for Jimmie, for after it was all over he fell asleep in June's arms.

Some one suggested that the Mayor have his picture taken with Jimmie. He smilingly declined, but did agree to be photographed with June.
